Can you work out what the words mean from these sentences?

1. Beyoncé's picture announcing her twins has been called 'self-indulgent'.

2&3. Some argued that it is a tasteful picture which was empowering for women.

4. Others have said that that assertion is nonsensical.

Definitions (how did you do?)...

Indulgent: allowing someone to have or do what they want, especially when this is not good for them.

Tasteful: showing good aesthetic judgement or appropriate behaviour.

Empowering: make (someone) stronger and more confident, especially in controlling their life and claiming their rights; give (someone) the authority or power to do something.

Nonsensical: having no meaning; making no sense.

What is the event that is happening in the news?

The story...

Beyonce has shared the first picture of herself with her twins to celebrate them turning one month old.

The US singer also confirmed they are called Sir Carter and Rumi - which had been rumoured after she and husband Jay-Z filed a trademark for the names.

The picture showed the 35-year-old mother-of-three and the twins draped in a purple floral sheet, while she wore a blue veil. It clocked up more than two million likes on Instagram in an hour.

Beyonce wrote: "Sir Carter and Rumi 1 month today", with a string of emojis of prayer hands and a woman, man, little girl and two babies. As well as the twins, Beyonce and rapper Jay-Z are also parents to five-year-old daughter, Blue Ivy.

The style of the image, in which Beyonce stands in a garden barefoot in front of a floral archway, echoes the photoshoot she used to announce her pregnancy on the network. That post, in February, became the most-liked in the history of Instagram.

Apply your knowledge...

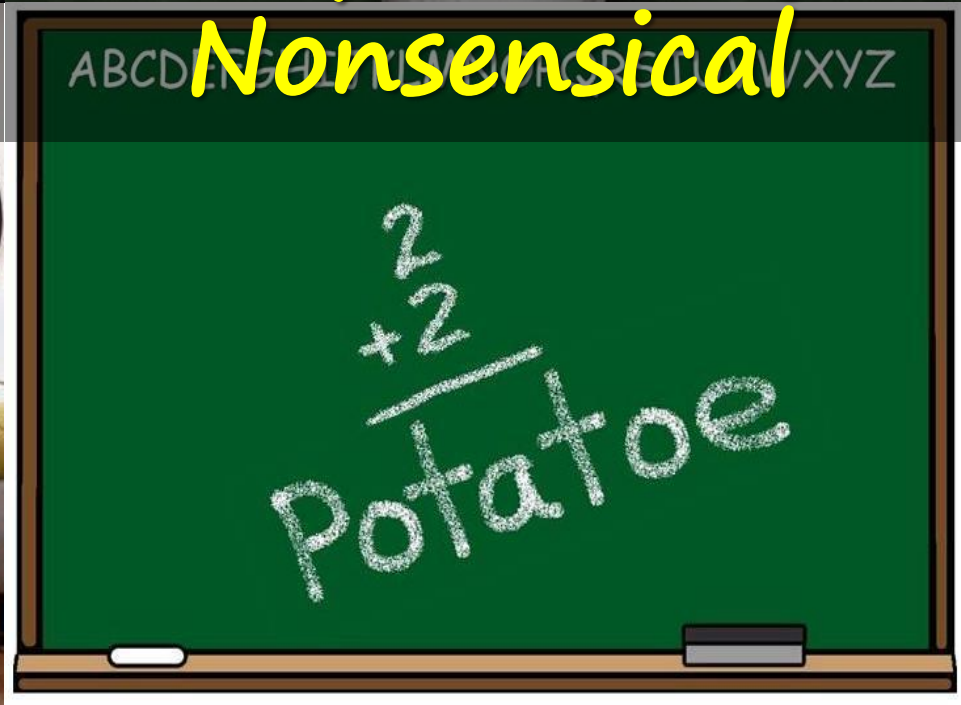

- The next slide you will see shows 4 images unrelated to the story previously discussed.
- Try to form a sentence using the new words for each of the images.
- Now try to form one sentence that uses all four words...

Indulgent
Tasteful

Empowering
Nonsensical
